

We're glad you're recovering

Could you help someone else recover too?

Antibodies in your blood plasma have helped you recover from COVID-19.

Giving some of your plasma to other COVID-19 patients could save their lives.

Plasma donation is similar to blood donation and happens in a clinical environment.

Donating blood plasma is safe and won't affect your own antibody levels.

Could you be the difference?

If you are a COVID-19 patient, we will contact you to talk about plasma donation.
